SAFETY IS NO ACCIDENT

Over-the-Counter Medications

When you receive over-the-counter medications, make sure you understand what you are taking and what effects it may have on your body. Although many of the drugs are taken to provide relief, they may cause a safety risk, and, possibly cause a driver to be classified as disqualified.

Over-the-counter medicines are also known as OTC or non-prescription medicines. All these terms mean the same thing...medicines that you can buy without a prescription form a healthcare professional. Each OTC medicine has a Drug Facts label to guide you in your choices and to help keep you safe. OTC medicines are serious medicines and their risks can increase if you don't choose them carefully and use them exactly as directed on the label.

- Read medication labels and potential side effects.
- Pay specific attention to your body's reactions when taking medications.
- Consult your physician if you are taking more than one type of medication.
- At any time you feel unable to safely operate your motor vehicle, let someone know right away.

Remember that you, as a commercial motor vehicle driver, are responsible to ensure that you are physically able to drive your vehicle safely.
